

→ star shelf stockers
retail corner

In the spirit of Earth Month, we've rounded up products from companies dedicated to ensuring the world becomes a better place—for everyone.

1. Purse & Clutch Handmade Woven Keychain

The distributor joins forces with and employs female artisans in Guatemala and Ethiopia to help break the cycle of poverty in rural communities. purseandclutch.com

2. Aveda Light the Way Earth Month 2017 Candle

This candle's entire purchase price supports water-related projects via the Global GreenGrants Fund. aveda.com

3. GUNAS NEW YORK Mayan Snap Lock Box Clutch

During the month of April, 20 percent of proceeds go to Farm Sanctuary, an American animal protection organization. gunasthebrand.com

4. WeWood Kardo Watch in Nut

Watches made of remnant woods; for every purchase, the company works with Trees for the Future and American Forests to plant a tree. we-wood.com

5. FarmHouse Fresh Is It True They Call You The Dog Bed Fairy? Book

$7 from each $10 book is donated to the production and purchase of dog beds for animal shelters and rescue organizations. farmhousefreshgoods.com

6. ESPEROS Foldover Purse in Nude

With each product sold the company funds one year of education for children in countries in the developing world like Haiti and Guatemala. esperossoho.com

7. Savannah Bee Company Orange Blossom Honey

Partners with the Bee Cause Project to educate about the importance of healthy honeybee populations and install observation hives in schools across the U.S. and the Bahamas. savannahbee.com

8. I Made A Difference (IMAD) Jewelry Golden Retriever Necklace

A portion of sales is donated to the Washington, D.C.-based Animal Welfare Institute to increase public knowledge about vulnerable animals such as rhinos, gorillas and elephants. imadjewelry.com

9. The Beauty of Hope Soy Candle in Peach & White Tea

10 percent of all sales are donated to the nonprofits Real Escape From The Sex Trade (REST) and Fortress Foundation, which work to end human trafficking. thebeautyofhopecollection.com